

CAPITAL BUSINESS

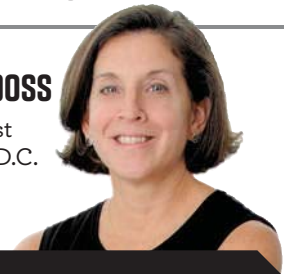

VIRGINIA ★ MARYLAND ★ DISTRICT

Published by The Washington Post

Tyson's to D.C.: How do you like being our suburb? » Page 3

Akin Gump introduces a new boss

Kim Koopersmith will be the firm's first chairwoman, and she expects work in D.C. will continue to be a "natural growth opportunity" for the global firm. » 16

OCTOBER 22 ~ OCTOBER 28, 2012 • VOLUME 3, ISSUE 28 • $2.50

Photos of the family? A familiar rug? Some luxury hotels will go to great lengths to make international travelers feel at home. STORY BY ABHA BHATTARAI | PAGE 20

REAL ESTATE

Safeway and Giant have something in common

Both grocers are teaming with the same developer to create new stores in NW. » 4

CONTRACTING

This week's big Army show will likely be a little smaller

The military plans to send fewer people to the AUSA conference to save on travel costs. » 14

MONEY

Check out our latest rundown of venture capital deals

The amount of money dips, even as more young companies receive investments. » 13

CAPITAL BUZZ

The paper ticket is so passé

Wizards season ticket holders get special cards to manage all their needs, from entering the arena to buying food. » 2

APPOINTMENTS 24
AREA STOCKS 30

Germany and the US.
A partnership that works.

